Dear Mark:

Robert Solow and his wife just had lunch with us at our Martha's Vineyard summer home and he spoke very enthusiastically of you and wanted me to send you his kindest greetings. He lives in Martha's Vineyard for a third of each year, at a Russell Sage Foundation condominium in New York City for another third (working there), and a retirement facility in Lexington, Massachusetts for the other third. We talked extensively about MIT, past and present. Evelyn and I hope you and your wife continue to have a wonderful summer.

Eric,

Great to hear from you, and I hope you are enjoying the Vineyard....for all the time I spent in the greater Boston area, it was only this year that I spent any time there. Risa and I had a long weekend in Edgartown in July and had a very nice time....charming place! Perhaps we can share our Vineyard stories when you get back to St. Louis.

I am appreciative of your passing along comments and information about Bob Solow...he is one of the greats of MIT, and I enjoyed working with him during my tenure as Provost.

With best personal regards to you and Evelyn from Risa and me,

Mark

Dear Mark:

During the Secretaries' Xmas Luncheon at the St. Louis Club you and Risa were kind enough to visit my table. You mentioned that you had recently taken a friend of the University to the Money Museum and that being a serious collector he enjoyed it. If you think it would be appropriate I will be glad to have him come to our museum and its library at his convenience when I can meet him there, make his acquaintance and show him things of special interest to him. I do not remember his name or contact details which you mentioned and would appreciate that information. Eric
